The Urban Fellows Programme (UFP) at the Indian Institute for Human Settlements (IIHS) will run from August 2018 to May 2019. The UFP is a tuition free, nine-month, interdisciplinary fellowship designed for learners from a wide range of disciplinary background and interested in urban issues.

India's urban transition is characterised by numerous urban challenges, which require an interdisciplinary approach to urban practice. The Fellowship's curriculum draws from the IIHS curriculum co-created in partnership with the world's leading universities including the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), University College London (UCL), the University of Cape Town (UCT) and the Federal University of the ABC Region, Sao Paulo (UFABC), in addition to nearly a hundred practitioners and scholars from across India. It is structured across three terms: Commons, Elective and Internship. For more information on the Curriculum Structure, please click here.

The UFP invites applications from recent graduates and young professionals, born on or after 1 August 1988. Applications close on 16 April 2018. For more information and to apply, please click here.

A series of webinars is being hosted till 12 April every Tuesday and Thursday between 5 pm and 6 pm. In the upcoming week there will be two separate webinars dedicated to the UFP Curriculum and UFP Application Process. Register here to participate in the webinars.

In addition, during the next few weeks, there will be a series of informative sessions organised in various locations in Bengaluru. These sessions will be a platform for students to interact with faculty and fellows and address queries related to the fellowship. They will also include a walk-through of the UFP application form and conversations about the curriculum. The schedule for the upcoming events in Bengaluru are available here.
