

Dear all,

We're advertising two new PhD positions in the interdisciplinary research project Cities and Newcomers, which brings together researchers from urban studies and geography, criminology, history and demography:

- one position on “Migration and Malthusian thinking”
- one position on “Ethnic profiling, discrimination and policing of migrants in public space”

For more information, please see the project website: <https://citiesandnewcomers.wordpress.com/phdcalls/> best wishes,

Bas
