

Rutgers University-New Brunswick:
School of Arts & Sciences
Center for Latin American Studies
Two-year Post-doctoral Associate Position

The Center for Latin American Studies in the School of Arts and Sciences at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey (New Brunswick), invites applications for a non-renewable two-year postdoctoral assistant professorship from any Latin American studies discipline in the humanities or social sciences. We especially seek to recruit in the fields of Anthropology, Geography, History, Politics, Sociology, and Critical Race, Feminist, Gender, Latin American & Urban Studies. Preference will be given to candidates whose research is empirically and historically grounded and articulates a transnational or hemispheric perspective on Latin America in a changing global context.

The duties of the Postdoctoral Associate include research, teaching, and service. The precise area of research will depend on the candidate's field of expertise and can include preparation and publication of articles, books, and other forms of scholarly communication. Teaching obligations include a standard teaching load of 2-1 and independent work with individual students as needed. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to participate actively in conferences, workshops, and seminars sponsored by the Center for Latin American Studies and to coordinate with the Center's director in organizing events and programming. The successful candidate will receive mentorship from the Center director or another full-time affiliated faculty member. Further information about the Center can be found here: <http://clas.rutgers.edu/>

Applicants must have received the Ph.D. between July 1, 2015 and July 1, 2018. Applicants who have not completed their PhD at the time of application will need to provide official institutional verification of completion by July 1, 2018 in order to take up the position. The appointment will be effective September 1, 2018. The holder of the position will receive a salary of $55,000 annually and Rutgers University health benefits and library privileges.

Applications consisting of a cover letter, a CV, a brief description (not to exceed two pages in length) of teaching and research interests, and three letters of recommendation, should be submitted electronically via <http://apply.interfolio.com/49842>. Requests for more information should be addressed to Professor Ulla D. Berg at uberg@lcs.rutgers.edu. Review of applications will commence on April 30, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, is an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action Employer. Qualified applicants will be considered for employment without regard to race, creed, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, genetic information, protected veteran status, military service or any other category protected by law.
