

MODUL University Vienna is seeking three researcher/lecturers therefore we are offering a position including a fully funded PhD Scholarship for candidates with an interest in sustainability, governance, tourism, and new media.

The call is among others specifically looking for candidates being interested in a position in the Department of Sustainability, Governance, and Methods

(<https://www.modul.ac.at/about/departments/sustainability-governance-and-methods/>) where our faculty is offering supervision in the following areas:

Institutional and spatial aspects of sustainability transitions

- Governance for sustainable development
- Urban and regional climate governance
- Quality-of-life assessment
- Ecological economics
- Energy and biophysical analysis
- Input-Output analysis
- Post-carbon economy
- Degrowth

A strong background in quantitative analysis is an advantage, but also a strong commitment to highly interdisciplinary research and mixed-method approaches and to the critical validation of measurement instruments.

The full call can be found here:

<https://www.modul.ac.at/index.php?eID=dumpFile&t=f&f=10343&token=66cc97ce5b026b8f6dda95320c23491654367f41>

Best wishes,
Sabine Sedlacek