POST DOCTORAL OPPORTUNITY IN FIELD OF REGIONAL INTEGRATION, MIGRATION AND SOCIAL PROTECTION TENABLE IN PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICA.

In the context of a programme of cooperation between the United Nations Centre for Regional Integration Studies (UNUCRIS), Bruges, Belgium and the Department of Political Sciences, University of Pretoria, South Africa, a postdoctoral opportunity has arisen for a young researcher to work on an aspect of the relationship between Regional Integration, Migration and Social Protection.

The researcher will work within the framework of the Regional Integration, Migration and Social Policy (RIMIS) research programme of the UNESCO Chair in Regional Integration, Migration and the Free Movement of People. This chair, currently occupied by Professor Bob Deacon, is located at UNUCRIS. Details of the programme are at <http://www.ucrm.org/Regional-Integration-Migration-and-Social-policy.461.0.html>.

The position will be available from an early date in 2012 for two years in the first instance. Remuneration will be the equivalent of approximately 15 000 Euro* pa tax free, depending on exchange rates. In South African terms it will be a fixed amount of ZAR 150 000 pa.

At this stage expressions of interest are invited. We are interested in hearing from scholars from any country who have recently obtained their PhD and have experience of researching in a field linked to this postdoctoral opportunity. We require a maximum of two pages of information, including a brief CV and indicating an area of future research interest. Applicants will be shortlisted and subsequently invited to submit a more detailed research proposal on the basis of which a final selection will be made.

Please send initial expressions of interest to Prof Bob Deacon: B.Deacon@sheffield.ac.uk on or before December 15th 2011.

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.
