CITIES IN EASTERN EUROPE AND CENTRAL ASIA: A Story of Urban Growth and Decline

Earlier World Bank studies¹ have found two contrasting urbanization patterns emerging in certain Eastern Europe and Central Asia (ECA) countries: a few cities are growing in population and are increasingly the hub of economic activity, while the large majority of cities are shrinking. These studies highlighted the need for further empirically-based studies to increase awareness of these trends as in-depth assessments revealed that national and local policies did not reflect the unique challenges associated with urban growth and decline.... Events

Green Cities For A Greener Future (21st to 25th May, 2018)

The next edition of EU Green Week will explore ways in which the EU is helping cities to become better places to live and work. Showcasing policy developments on air quality, noise, waste and water management, it will promote participatory approaches to urban development, networking schemes, and tools for sharing best practices, engaging local authorities and citizens, and encouraging them to share their vision of a sustainable future.
