

FURS Research Grants within the field of urban and regional studies

FURS is keen to encourage an understanding of the interconnection between social, economic and political processes and of the broader causes and effects of these processes within urban and regional studies.

Applications are invited for a number of research grants. These may be held in any university. The Trustees are anxious to encourage newly graduated researchers or junior colleagues of established researchers who have difficulty in getting funds to support research. In particular, from 2005, only applicants whose nationality falls into the countries listed in Groups B and C of the World Bank classification. will be eligible to apply.

Applications must be received by 31 January each year. Late applications will not be considered under any circumstances and no correspondence will be entered into. Each application will be acknowledged and successful applicants will be informed by late March. Funding is only offered to those students who are within the field of urban and regional studies.
