

WITH APOLOGIES FOR ANY CROSS-POSTING

Dear Colleague

The Urban Studies Foundation is pleased to announce its Seminar Series Competition, which aims at supporting the generation of international research in all areas of urban analysis. In the 2016 competition, we intend to support up to three seminar series, in each case up to a maximum of £20,000. Applications to the Competition will be received in two stages.

We welcome proposals from academics working in any country, and we expect the proposal to be of international interest in terms of its coverage and scope. All proposals should be clearly international in breadth, and should relate to the scope of the journal Urban Studies.

Further information and the short Initial Application Form are available to download at the Foundation's website at www.urbanstudiesfoundation.org

The closing date for Initial Applications is 15 April 2016. Any enquiries should be made to Ruth Harkin (ruth.harkin@glasgow.ac.uk<<mailto:ruth.harkin@glasgow.ac.uk>>) in the first instance.

Yours sincerely,

Professor John Parr
Trustee, Urban Studies Foundation
