Mexico and the United States: Frontierization and Migration Policies

Part of Mobilities and Migrations Across the Americas

REGISTER HERE | Add to Google Calendar

This is the second event in a four-part lecture series on “Mobilities and Migration across the Americas,” organized by the German Historical Institute. Bringing together scholars from Latin America and the Caribbean, the United States, and Europe, this lecture series aims to provide a platform for engaging and inspiring interdisciplinary debates.

Kateřina Březinová is a professor at the Department of International Relations and European Studies at the Metropolitan University Prague.

Luicy Pedroza is a professor-researcher at the Centro Internacional del Colegio de México.

Organized by Pacific Regional Office of the German Historical Institute Washington at the University of California, Berkeley, German Historical Institute Washington, D.C., and co-sponsored by the Center for Latin American Studies, the Institute of European Studies, Global, International & Area Studies (all at UC Berkeley), The Maria Sibylla Merian Center for Advanced Latin American Studies (CALAS), and the International Research Training Group (IRTG) “Temporalities of Future.”

Zoom event: REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED. You will receive a confirmation email with the link and password to the event. For more information, please see the GHI website. If you require an accommodation to fully participate in this event, please contact Heike Friedman at heike@berkeley.edu.
