

52ND IFHP WORLD CONGRESS
SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO • OCTOBER 12 - 15 • 2008
PUERTO RICO CONVENTION CENTER

The 52nd IFHP World Congress will be an International meeting-place for decision makers and operators in the field of Planning and Housing : Housing and Environment . Ministers, Governors, Mayors, Planners, Architects, Engineers, Developers, Economist, Researchers, Academics, Students, Community Groups and Housing Professionals. In other words, a truly multi-disciplinary event not to be missed!

Get ready to enjoy a diverse and unique cultural experience! Spanish, African and American influences are evident in our people, our music, our art, our cuisine... It ´s a distinctive heritage that will make your visit one to remember! Puerto Rico is old world... and Puerto Rico is present and future... During your visit you ´ll be able to move from majestic historical landmarks, worthy of being included among UNESCO ´s world heritage list, to modern districts that look towards the future... they are just minutes away. And, of course, our Island is known for its beauty, for its rich natural resources and the variety of cultural and social experiences... it ´s no wonder Puerto Rico is one of the preferred vacation destinations in the Caribbean! Our location, an advantageous strategic spot in the Caribbean that sets us in the path of commercial transactions, communications, travel, and business of every kind! It ´s an environment where our people have thrived, becoming one of the most educated and dynamic workforces in the area. Together, we have created a vibrant economy that has attracted global corporations of every kind. This is the Island that awaits you, ready to host the Congress where, together, we will explore the challenges we face as we work to plan and provide an affordable and sustainable habitat. October 12 to 15th Puerto Rico is waiting! For more information enter to:
