

TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT SYMPOSIUM
NAIROBI 2015

14-17 December, 2015 - Hilton Nairobi

ICTSD is now accepting proposals for partner sessions at the 2015 Trade and Development Symposium, the foremost multi-stakeholder platform held on the occasion of the Tenth WTO Ministerial Conference in Nairobi, Kenya.

Organised by ICTSD, the University of Nairobi, and Saana Institute, the Symposium will take place from 14-17 December at the Hilton Nairobi – a short walk from the WTO Ministerial Conference venue.

About the Symposium

The four-day event will address the most pressing global challenges facing the international trade community by bringing together a wide range of stakeholders from civil society, government and the private sector. The 2015 Symposium will feature two separate event streams: The Nairobi Trade and Business Forum, which will help reinforce connections between business and the WTO and the E15 Initiative, which will address the strengthening of the global trade and investment system.

Why become a partner?

The Trade and Development Symposium model offers organisations an opportunity to take the lead in designing individual sessions. As a partnering organisation, you will have oversight of the topics, speakers, and format of a session, which will then be integrated into the Symposium programme. Partners will enjoy unparalleled outreach opportunities, including ambitious social media integration, opportunities for video webcasting, and excellent opportunities for meaningful engagement with the trade and sustainable development community.
