"Between 2003 and 2010, under President Lula, Celso Amorim was at the forefront of an important period in the history of Brazil's international relations—one in which the country practiced a newly assertive foreign policy, extending its diplomatic reach to the global stage. This book consists of three narratives: the pursuit of a peaceful, negotiated solution to the Iranian nuclear issue; Brazil's diplomatic efforts in relation to the Middle East, which included recognizing the State of Palestine; and the country's leading role in the Doha Round of multilateral trade negotiations. The narratives take the reader on a journey behind the scenes of global politics, combining detailed accounts of international negotiations with candid and insightful descriptions of the countless world leaders Amorim came into close contact with—including, to name but a few, Hillary Clinton, George W. Bush, Barack Obama, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, Tony Blair, Manmohan Singh, Mahmoud Abbas, and Benjamin Netanyahu." (Rowman and Littlefield Publishers)

Comentarios de:

José Antonio Ocampo

Profesor de la SIPA Columbia University, ex Subsecretario de ECOSOC, ex Ejecutivo de la CEPAL, ex Ministro de Colombia

"Entre 2003 y 2010, bajo la presidencia de Lula, Celso Amorim estuvo a la vanguardia de un período importante en la historia de las relaciones internacionales de Brasil -una en la que el país practicó una política exterior novedosamente asertiva, extendiendo su alcance diplomático a la escena global. Este libro consta de tres narraciones: la búsqueda de una solución pacífica y negociada para el problema nuclear iraní; los esfuerzos diplomáticos de Brasil en relación con Oriente Medio, que incluían el reconocimiento del Estado de Palestina; y el papel principal del país en las negociaciones comerciales multilaterales de la Ronda de Doha. Las narraciones llevan al lector a un viaje detrás de las escenas de la política global, combinando los detallados relatos de las negociaciones internacionales con descripciones francas y sinceras de los incontables líderes mundiales con los que Amorim entró en estrecho contacto -incluyendo, por nombrar algunos a Hillary Clinton, George Bush, Barack Obama, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, Tony Blair, Manmohan Singh, Mahmoud Abbas y Benjamín Netanyahu".
