

Dear Colleagues;

Launched! Six visiting faculty fellowships in design for environmental, social, spatial justice. All ranks. 2 terms to 3 years. Eugene and Portland. University of Oregon School of Architecture & Environment. #disruption #designjustice #equityindesign #uoiarch #uoregonarchitecture #uoregonlandarch #uohistoricpreservation Link to apply: <https://bit.ly/2TGo2DZ>

The School of Architecture and Environment (SAE) is recruiting emerging and distinguished design scholars who will engage communities within and outside of the institution in their research and teaching, and whose scholarship at the intersections of gender, race, ethnicity, indigeneity, sexuality, and economic inequality is enriched by their lived experience.

We are looking in particular for visiting faculty in Eugene and Portland who will work with “emerging technologies, media and fabrication, design and design/build, community engagement, social practice, or critical spatial practice” and who can teach “media, design processes, architectural technology, cultural heritage and heritage conservation, inclusive urbanism, feminist spatial practice, design computation, integrated design, habitats/housing, human-centered design, urbanism and/or land use, and materials and methods.”

Here's a LINK to a story about the initiative.

Here's a LINK to the UO application.

Here's a LINK to the Chronicle of Higher Education job posting.

Here's a LINK to the Facebook post you could share.

Please share freely.

Best

Manas

Ph.D STUDENT | UNIVERSITY OF OREGON | DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE

B. ARCH | M.A URBAN DESIGN | M.A SUSTAINABLE URBANISM

mmurthy@uoregon.edu | 541 606 7299

My Profile