

CALL FOR PAPERS 19th N-AERUS Conference

Hosted by the Department of International Urbanism, University of Stuttgart, Germany

HOUSING AND HUMAN SETTLEMENTS IN A WORLD OF CHANGE 08.11.2018 - 10.11.2018, University of Stuttgart The challenge of housing is increasingly recognised in the international policy discussion in its broader links to processes of migration, climate change, and economic globalisation. In spite of the fact that housing is recognised as a basic human right and essential for human development, securing safe and adequate housing for everyone remains a major global development challenge of the 21st century (Tibaijuka, 2009). Recent international agreements have therefore put housing at the centre of urban development and call for systematic approaches to the housing challenge (SDGs 2015, Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction, the Addis Ababa Action Agenda on Financing for Development, the Paris Agreement under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change 2015, the NUA 2016). The objective of this conference is therefore to debate the challenges of housing and emerging solutions along the lines of three major dynamics: migration, climate change and neo-liberalism. Scholars from all disciplines are invited to submit abstracts in relation to the topics of the following three sessions.

Submission of abstracts Please send your abstract (max. 500 words in .rtf or .docx format) in English to naerus2018@si.uni-stuttgart.de no later than May 30th 2018, 1pm CET, indicating: a) session, b) names of the authors and c) title of the paper. Papers will be selected by an independent scientific committee composed of the Department of International Urbanism of University of Stuttgart, Germany and N-AERUS representatives through a blind refereeing process. After the conference a selection of the best articles will be published in an edited book format.
