

Urban Anthropology

Special Issue on the Urban Informal Economy

For your information, the prestigious journal, Urban Anthropology, is organizing a special issue on the Urban Informal Economy.

Contributions can come from any city in the world. Some first hand fieldwork is expected in at least parts of the proposed article.

If you agree to submit an article, please send me: (a) your name, (b) your affiliations, (c) your best e-mail address, and (d) a tentative title for your contribution.

If you would agree to contribute, the date for the submission of your formal manuscript would be March or April 2011.

The manuscript should be between 10,000 and 12,000 words, including an abstract of up to 200 words, notes, and a complete References Cited section. After this information is received, Jack Rollwagen <jrollwag@the-institute-ny.com>, Managing Editor of Urban Anthropology an send you samples of UAS bibliographic style, a complete sample article, and so forth.

Please circulate among your colleagues.
