

Dear colleagues,

With apologies for cross-posting.

The Department for Continuing Education at the University of Oxford is pleased to invite applications for a fully-funded scholarship worth over £38,000 to undertake the part-time MSc in Sustainable Urban Development for October 2020 entry.

We would be grateful if list members would share this announcement with colleagues, students and associates for whom it will be of interest.

MSc in Sustainable Urban Development

Two years part-time from October 2020

Full scholarships are available for outstanding students starting in October 2020.

The MSc is a multi-disciplinary and globally-focused course for high-achieving professionals who will provide vision and leadership for sustainable urban futures.

It is specially designed to be taken whilst working, with eight intensive teaching weeks in Oxford and London, and a final dissertation project, all fully supported through our web-based learning environment.

The MSc is delivered in partnership with The Prince's Foundation and is accredited by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

Scholarship deadline: 24 January 2020
