

What would it be like if we all had access to decent housing?

The housing deficit affects almost half of the households in Latin America and the Caribbean. It is also the second most exposed region in the world to natural disasters and the effects of climate change.

Register for the Housing Forum 2022, a unique space where we will explore innovative, affordable and carbon neutral housing solutions. Discover financing and subsidy opportunities, innovative construction models, new ways of making public policy, technologies to improve management and efficiency, and strategies to address the housing deficit.

Enjoy two days of cutting-edge knowledge and learn about the initiatives that are changing the future of housing in our region from more than 35 experts and academics from around the world.

Register now

This email was sent to: irazabal@umd.edu
This email was sent by: Inter-American Development Bank Group
1300 New York Ave. NW
Washington, DC, 20577, USA

We respect your right to privacy - view our policy

Manage Subscriptions