

Examining Gentrification, Displacement, and Racial Capitalism through a Restorative Justice Framework

Interdisciplinary Dialogue Series (#3)

September 29 | 5:30 - 6:30 pm | Hybrid

National Trans Visibility march in Washington, D.C. Photo courtesy of Ted Eytan via Flickr.

Dialogue #3

This session will address the questions:

- What engenders (in)justice and to whom in contexts of gentrification, displacement, and racial capitalism?
- Can justice be restored within those contexts?
  - If so, how and by whom?
  - If not, how can we conceive of the built environment and the practices that produce it otherwise?

Dialogue Participants

- Dr. Alvaro Huerta, Religion and Public Life Organizing Fellow at the Harvard Divinity School; Associate Professor in Urban & Regional Planning and Ethnic & Women's Studies at Cal Poly Pomona
- Dr. Margaret Marietta Ramirez, Assistant Professor, Geography, Simon Fraser University
- Dr. Laura Harjo is a Mvskoke scholar and an associate professor teaching Indigenous Planning, Community Development, and Indigenous Feminisms, University of Oklahoma
- Dr. Georgeanne Matthews, Assistant Professor, Urban Studies and Planning, MAPP+D

Registration required

JEDI Collaborative

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE,
PLANNING & PRESERVATION

TERRAPIN STRONG

go.umd.edu/restorative\_justice3